At H & S Convention

Public's Lack of Interest Harmful To Education

The annual convention of the Alberta Federation of Home and School Associations was held recently in Edmonton and delegates from Home and School Associations in the County of Vulcan attended.

The keynote address was given by Dr. Arthur Kratzman, who is head of the Department of Elementary Education, Faculty of Education, University of Alberta. His topic was "What Has Happened to the Public in Public Education?" The lay public were here first, he said, but have lost their effectiveness through indifference and a lack of interest. He urged the convention delegates:

a) To become completely informed about educational issues, problems and accomplishments.

b) To gear their information-seeking to long range and comprehensive issues rather than limited problems which "loom large because of their apparent immediacy."

c) To establish a collective position on all crucial educational issues. Affiliation of the local associations to the provincial and federal federations is a necessity.

d) To take appropriate political action at every level. Interest and concern must start at the local level and move up as the need arises.

e) To realize that they represent the only organized group of non-professionals in education, whose primary reason for being is the enhancement of educational programs.

Dr. Kratzman suggested the Alberta Federation could take political action by seeking representation on key decision-making groups, probing the power structure. (Continued On Page 7)

30 x 98 Premises

Official Opening Held For New Treasury Branch

Over 300 persons attended the official opening of the new Treasury Branch at Vulcan Friday afternoon, Dec. 1, and enjoyed a tour through the smart, modern premises, short talks by various officials and light refreshments.

Mayor Gerry Ness, extended an official welcome from the Town of Vulcan, praised the fine, new addition to Vulcan's business section. The building, 30 x 98 ft. in size, was constructed at a cost of $79,800.

George Davey, Superintendent of Treasury Branches, recalled that the first Treasury Branch had been opened in Vulcan in September 1939 and he had been appointed manager at Vulcan in March 1940, remaining here in that capacity for five years. As a former resident of Carmangay, Mr. Davey is well acquainted in this part of the province and he referred to Vulcan as his "second home," as he has so many friends in the town and district.

Service Held At Union Jack Community Centre

A centennial service, held at Union Jack Community Centre on Nov. 26, was attended by over 70 persons from Arrowwood, Milo, Vulcan, Mossleigh and the surrounding district. The service was conducted by Rev. W. Dornier of Vulcan, assisted by Mrs. E. Howie of Milo. Mrs. Dornier provided organ music and Sandra Oldfield sang, "How Great Thou Art."

Union Jack Community Centre was formerly the Union Jack school, built in 1909 at a cost of $1243.

The first teacher was Herbert Campbell, now 80 years of age and residing in Ontario. He was paid $65 a month and school tax was $14 a quarter-section.

With the aid of a centennial grant this year, the old building was renovated, painted and new heating system installed. Much credit for leadership and work on the project goes to Bill Holton and other district volunteers.

Attending the service was Mrs. William Burgess, the former Alberta Bennett, who was one of the teachers of past years. Among the former pupils of the school who were able to attend the centennial service were Mrs. Anna Wanebeke (Anna Spanke), Mrs. Hilda Kane (Hilda Johnson), Billy Marshall, Mrs. Glen Dahl (Grace Burgess), William Burgess, Mrs. Sadie Wanebeke (Sadie Spanke), Sievert Johnson, Bill McMullen and Mrs. Chloe Marshall (Chloe Hamilton). Of these, Bill Marshall and Bill McMullen were original students, answering the roll call when the school first opened in 1909.

Allan McAskill, president of the Vulcan District Chamber of Commerce, extended congratulations on the opening of the new building on behalf of Vulcan's business community, and Wally Taylor, manager of the Vulcan Treasury Branch, expressed the pleasure of himself and his staff in having so many attend the opening of the new building.

Cutting the ribbon to signify that the building was officially open was the Hon. Raymond Speaker, Minister without Portfolio and MLA for Little Bow. The Treasury Branches facilitate the involvement of the people themselves in the growth of the province, said Mr. Speaker. They provide a service that is being increasingly used by the residents of Alberta, with profits from their operation going back into the general revenue fund of the province.

Door prizes of gift savings pass books with credit balances were won by Lawrence Orchard ($15) and Del Graham ($10). The winners were determined by the closeness of their guesses concerning the number of pennies in a bag. Mr. Orchard guessing 1,832 and Mr. Graham 1,814 to come up with the closest answers to the actual number of 1,842.

Dear Homemaker,

FESTIVE ENTERTAINING

Are you planning to entertain a group of friends during the holiday season? The buffet is a simple, friendly way of serving food to a large gathering.

The buffet table should be arranged attractively. A holiday centerpiece lends festive atmosphere. Platters of food may be gaily decorated to add color and zest. "Frosty Grapes" provide an interesting garnish to a meat platter. They could also be used for an edible centerpiece. Right now local food stores are showing delicious looking grapes. To frost grapes, beat one egg white until frothy. Dip thoroughly dried grapes in egg white to coat on all sides. Roll the grapes in granulated sugar and place on waxed paper to dry. Sprinkle with additional sugar, if necessary, as the surface dries.

To Crumb or Cube, that is the question. If you've included turkey in your buffet menu, what will you stuff it with? Will you use bread crumbs or cubes for the dressing? If the bread is cut into cubes, there is no problem of requiring bread with a certain degree of dryness. This can be an advantage if you've forgotten to buy the bread before hand. Fine fluffy crumbs make a light dressing which requires no liquid to give it just the right texture. Too dry bread, whether crumbed or cubed needs the addition of liquid. If the least bit too much is added the result will be a soggy, wet dressing.

The buffet table is placed and arranged to provide convenience for your guests in serving themselves. Set your table in the following order: napkins, dinner plates, hot dishes, cold dishes, salad, bread, relishes, silver. Have your guests pass left around the table. This allows the right hand to be toward the table—a convenience in helping oneself to food.

Buffet style meals will also allow you as a host or hostess, enjoy more time with your guests. An occasion such as this should be one of mutual enjoyment.

Booklets on Holiday Menus and Holiday Decorating are available at my office. Drop in and pick some up.

REMEMBER: The last meeting in the Family Life Series will be held in the United Church Hall in Champion on Thursday, Dec. 7, at 7:30 p.m. sharp. This weeks discussion is on "Preparation for Retirement." Everyone is Welcome.

Your Treasury Branch has a better Savings Plan

Now, your Treasury Branch helps you set your money to work in the way that suits you best.

Take your pick of these three straightforward plans:

1-to-6-Year Term Saving Certificates
Here's the big one! On a minimum investment of $10,000 for any term from one to six years, your Treasury Branch now pays 6% per annum. Don't miss this opportunity!

IMPORTANT: Invest now at this excellent rate — Treasury Branch interest rates fluctuate in accordance with trends in the financial field.

1-to-6-Year Term Saving Certificates
Deposit $500 or more for whatever period you wish from one to six years, and your money immediately starts earning 5½% per annum.

4½% Regular Savings Accounts
Deposit any amount you wish, either at set intervals or when it's convenient. Interest at the rate of 4½% calculated on your minimum monthly balance is added to your account twice a year. Withdraw as much as you need, when you need it. You can make as many as five withdrawals in any one month free.

All of these plans give you complete flexibility. Treasury Branch Term Saving Certificates can be redeemed before maturity at any time after the first ninety days. If you redeem before maturity, you get whatever interest has been earned, but at a slight reduction. Or, you can leave your Term Saving Certificate intact, earning interest for you at the full rate, while you use it as collateral for an economical Treasury Branch Loan. Call in at your nearest Treasury Branch right away and let the friendly Manager help you pick your best savings plan.

U.C.W. FELLOWSHIP MEETING
Unit 3 entertained the Champion UCW at the home of Mrs. J. Sanderson at a Fellowship Meeting on Nov. 28.

Audrey McGrail read the opening prayer. Devotional was lead by Mrs. B. Siler. Several hymns were sung accompanied on the piano by Mrs. T. P. Carlson.

A very amusing birthday contest was conducted which everyone enjoyed. A lovely lunch served by the hostesses brought the evening to a close.

W.I. MEETING

The WI met at the home of Mrs. Orville Johnson with 12 members and one visitor present. Mrs. Anderson was welcomed back to the WI being a member in the early years. Mrs. Little was in the chair during the first part of the meeting owing to the absence of the president, Mrs. Nowlin. Roll call was answered by toys being handed in for the Crippled Children's Hospital; each member also had to sing, say or pay, which was quite funny.

Mrs. Little gave a report on health, How Doctors Diet. It was decided to pay two dollars a member in place of having a bake sale. The WI will cover books for the Library.

The birthday box was part Mrs. Lawson's and Mrs. Ferguson's, both having had a birthday. Mrs. Miller, Sunshine Conventor sent eight get-well cards. The raffle was won by Mrs. Nowlin and the record raffle by Mrs. Miller. A lovely lunch was served by the hostess and Mrs. Sisson.

Builder of First Permanent Settlement

Samuel de Champlain repelled frequent attacks by the hostile Iroquois Indians in 1609-10 after forming an alliance with the friendly Hurons and Algonquins.

In the picture, Champlain wears the outfit of a 17th century musketeer, but without the traditional steel armoured breast plate and thigh guards. He favored buckskin for travelling lightly by canoe in the wilderness. Two powder flasks and a bag of bullets hang from his belt. The gun was a heavy muzzle-loading arquebus, fired by a long fuse.

The arquebus was clumsy, slow to operate, and its recoil could easily dislocate a shoulder or collar bone. Eventually the Iroquois realized the superior efficiency of their own simple weapons. They plagued the French settlers with swift, silent surprise attacks until about 1670, when flint-locks were developed and muskets became lighter and more efficient. Champlain made up in leadership what he lacked in hardware.

Builder of the first permanent settlement on Canadian soil and founder of Quebec, he was an explorer, adventurer, cartographer, colonizer and writer. He was commandant of New France for 15 years.

After being captured and released by the British, he was governor for the final two years of an energetic and brilliant life which he had devoted to strengthening the colony.

BLACKIE

Last Saturday evening 50 boys and girls from the Junior Masonic Lodge and Jobs Daughters, Calgary gathered at the Roland Elliott farm for a hay ride, organized by Ken Woods, former employee of the Royal Bank, Blackie. Following the ride the group gathered in the Elliott home for lunch.

A family dinner was held Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Montgomery honoring Mr. and Mrs. Jim Montgomery Sr's 42nd wedding anniversary.

Get well wishes are extended to Norman Egeland, a patient in the High River Hospital and Mrs. Wellman in a Calgary hospital.

FAIRVIEW REBEKAH LODGE
Fairview Rebekah Lodge held their regular meeting Monday with 17 members present. Noble Grand Hilda Stier gave a report on the United Nations Pilgrimage for Youth meeting held in Blackie. The finals will be held March 2 in Nanton.

Plans were discussed for the Annual Christmas party to be held Dec. 11 when the Rebekahs will be entertaining their husbands, Oddfellows and their wives.

Members were reminded to bring a large tea towel for the kitchen. First night of nominations was held. Lunch was served at the close of the meeting by Mrs. R. Percifield.

ALL SET. Ready for his trip along the streets at the Elks July 1st parade is this youngster and his pooch. There was on hand a good assortment of animals, decorated bicycles and other entries featuring the younger set. The only problem in these pet entries is when half a dozen dogs start a brawl or someone brings a pet pussycat into the parade.

Natural Gas For Farms?

There may be some interest in the County of Vulcan area in a plan for distribution of natural gas to Alberta farm homes, now under consideration by the United Farmers of Alberta.

Now in its preliminary stage, the study is expected to be completed this winter and will investigate the feasibility of organizing local natural gas co-operatives and possibly negotiating natural gas supplies for a province-wide distribution system.

Main obstacle up to this time has been the cost of running lines to farm homes, but the use of plastic pipe for distributing gas may make the plan economically feasible, according to UFA officials. It has been indicated that the Alberta government would be prepared to guarantee private loans to farmers covering half the cost of installation.

With a Canadian Western Natural Gas Co. line now serving towns on the Aldersyde line from Vulcan south and the new Dome Petroleum natural gas processing plant east of Champion due to be completed early in the new year, the southern part of the county at least would be quite near gas supplies. The deciding factor in a plan such as is now being studied by the UFA will undoubtedly be the cost of running lines to individual farm homes. Findings of the UFA study will be awaited with interest.

Harold Hansens Back From Royal

The Hansens were guests of Mr. Searle and Doug Catlo, the judge at the International jumping events at the horse show, a part of the Royal. At the horse show the Hansens witnessed the pomp and ceremony which was accorded Canada's Governor General Roland Mitchell in his attendance. Another highlight was the RCMP Musical Ride.

Following a trip to Niagara Falls, the couple went to Montreal where the thrill of seeing the city of skyscrapers and ancient churches was matched by the daily battle between pedestrians and automobiles on busy streets where little attention is paid by either party, to traffic lights.

At Ottawa the Hansens were guests of Dr. and Mrs. Lawrence Kindt who took them on a tour of the Parliament buildings and were their guests for dinner at the Parliament restaurant. They were able to watch the Commons and Senate in action and contrary to some public opinion, the visitors found that members were not dozing or reading newspapers but actively engaged in lively debate.

The Hansens were introduced to Conservative Leader Robert Stanfield and many of the western and eastern Members of Parliament.

While in Quebec they visited Rev. and Mrs. Sharpe at Chelsea, and the former Vulcan United Church minister asked to be remembered to friends here.

CUP TEAM. On the 1966 Willingdon Cup team at Montreal was Keith Alexander, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. Alexander, who was born at Vulcan and began his education her in the same school where his mother now teaches. From the left are Premier Ernest Manning, Art Dixon, MLA, golfers Bob Wylie, Alexander, John Kilburn and non-playing team captain Charlie Scott. At right is Mike Macagno, then Leader of the Opposition in the legislature.

In 1967 Tom Dalgetty replaced Kilburn on the team at the Victoria Willingdon Cup matches. Golfers must qualify for a spot on the team and so these boys will likely be hustling to make the grade for the 1968 event to be held at Edmonton.

ture and applying influence at every possible pressure point. To do this, the Federation must have a strong and united group of parents forming the grass-roots of the organization and the local H & S Association is where the parents can contribute most.

Although the resolution asking the provincial government to allot money for the institution of kindergartens in the province was passed by a large majority, the Minister of Education stated that the priority of spending was for adult rather than for pre-school education. A great deal of study and work has been and is being done to persuade school boards and the Department of Education that there is a real need in the field of pre-school education.

Another resolution from the board of directors asked that a lay advisory board replace the general curriculum committee to establish the objectives of public education and review and question curriculum changes. The resolution also asked that an institute of curriculum design be set up to replace curriculum committees and develop new curriculums and materials based on the objectives of the lay advisory board; that an evaluation committee be set up to evaluate all aspects of education and determine if the purpose of the curriculum is being carried out, and that an institute of communication and dissemination be set up to inform the public of new programs and new teaching techniques.

COUNTY CENTRAL HIGH SCHOOL HI-LITES

(By Patsy Husby)

Dec. 1 found the CCHS Cougars basketball teams at Cayley. The result of this first league game was a double victory — a win for both girls and boys.

Karen Williams led the Girls' Cougar team by scoring 12 of the 53 points accumulated by the CCHS girls. Cayley girls tried valiantly to stop the opposition, but the final score was a 55-12 win for the local team.

Cougar boys took over next and proved their metal also. Terry Farrow was high scorer with 17 points. Cayley boys offered strong opposition, but were hampered by bad luck as a number of their players were fouled out. The game was called because of this with three minutes left to play. The result was a score of 62-42 for CCHS Cougar boys.

The win this week makes up for the losses suffered on Nov. 24, in the exhibition games against Stavely. The next basketball game is on Dec. 8, at Turner Valley.

Since the basketball season is just beginning our local teams need everyone's support. It is necessary that not only school students turn out, but also townspeople — from every town in the area — to help cheer the Cougar Basketball Teams to victory.

Reil Centre of Early Political Storm

Louise Reil (centre) and his council, 1870. The Messianic Metis leader, who is sometimes called the Father of Manitoba, was executed for high treason by John A. Macdonald's Conservative federal government in November, 1885 at Regina, after Reil led an up-rising in Manitoba in 1869-70 and a rebellion in Saskatchewan in the spring of 1885. His jury trial and execution when Macdonald refused to reprieve him, reflected the painful political and territorial consolidation of Canada and intensified English-French bitterness.

Reil chose death before dishonour by protesting his own lawyer's plea of insanity, the only plea that could save him. This suited the prosecution and consequently Reil's mental fitness was never properly tested by competent medical specialists during his trial. Whatever the case he gave effective leadership to a legitimate cause. In a sense he committed suicide to underline his crusade.

Reil rose to prominence in 1869-70. He organized English and French half-breeds (mostly descendants of fur-traders) and other early settlers and farmers in the Red River valley of Manitoba, before it was officially part of Canada. He helped them preserve their land and fought for their rights against the expanding dominion of the new federal government, which had bought huge tracts of land in the west from the Hudson's Bay Co. Long before the official federal land takeover, new Canadian settlers began encroaching and land speculators moved in. Surveyors tramped through the Red River Valley, threatening to chop up the original community systems of river lots, which the 12,000 Metis and their allies had cleared and settled peacefully. Federal government planners had neither informed nor consulted the original settlers, and Ottawa had failed to offer them rights or representations.

Agitators in Ontario portrayed Scott as an Orangeman martyr at the hands of Catholic-French half-breed ruffians. The embarrassed federal government had sent a military expedition (mainly of young Orangemen) to ensure Manitoba's peaceful birth, but during the difficult 96-day trek, the undisciplined troupe decided to take revenge against Scott's death. They looted Metis homes, killed some Metis leaders and drove many of the settlers into Saskatchewan.

Reil escaped. He was elected to federal parliament while in hiding, but Ottawa refused to let him take his seat, and gave him a $5,000 bribe to leave the country.

What's the best beer in the house?

How do you make a choice here? Well, Lethbridge Lager is the bold, brawny brew; Lethbridge Pilsner the traditional beer...naturally aged in the good old-fashioned way. Both are quality brewed, so it's a matter of individual taste. As you can see, both the beers speak for themselves.

The two best beers in the house!

Thirty-five Indian Students Tour Canada

Thirty-five Indian students from the Yukon and Northern B.C., in their first tour of Canada from coast to coast in October because a food company believes that in Canada's Centennial year Canadian business should give consideration to the first Canadians.

The students, aged 14-18, were flown from Whitehorse to Vancouver and then set out on a three-week "see-enjoy Canada" journey with stops in Vancouver, Edmonton, Winnipeg, Toronto, Ottawa, Montreal and Halifax.

Their sponsor was the Independent Grocers Alliance. The program was conducted in co-operation with the Department of Indian Affairs and Northern Development Commission.

The project had been undertaken according to Kenneth W. Quinn, President of Horne and Pittfield Foods Limited, IA supplier in Alberta, because "in the excitement of celebrating our first 100 years as a nation, Canadians may tend to overlook the original occupants of the country."

The students all spent three and a half days at Expo, toured the naval base at Halifax, an air-force station in Ottawa, a ranch in Manitoba, oil wells near Edmonton, TV studios, a newspaper office, department stores, Planetarium, University, the mint, National museum, historical centres and many points of interest including Niagara Falls. A highlight of the trip was a tour of Parliament Hill and a private meeting with the Prime Minister and Minister of Indian Affairs and Northern Development.

They saw an NHL game at the Montreal Forum and visited the Toronto Maple Leafs at a Toronto hockey practice. In several cities, meetings with teenagers had been arranged, both for social and discussion purposes.

Mr. Quinn said, "the program was designed to give the students full opportunity to meet a broad cross-section of Canadian people including the various ethnic groups which now make up our citizenry."

"We want them to get to know Canada and every kind of Canadian," he said.

The 35 students—19 boys and 16 girls—were selected on the basis of leadership qualities and scholastic ability by supervisors of the two hostels in which they live while attending Whitehorse High School.

MR. CLEAN. This bundle of fur in the arms of Margaret Hanna is an Eskimo Spitz, one month old and a much prized member of Marganna Kennels, north of Vulcan. It will grow to a height of about 10 inches, is easily trained and is a lovable house pet.

Proudly introducing Another Alberta Junior Citizen of the Centennial Year!

DARLENE KOPORES, Ponoka

Several years ago, when her mother passed away, Darlene began helping her father to look after the family. Darlene has four younger brothers and sisters. Then, when she was thirteen, her father went to hospital, and this enterprising girl took complete charge! She kept house and looked after the family even through difficult periods. Yet she has attained an excellent scholastic standing. Today, she attends Grade Ten at Ponoka High School. Now that her father is home again, the family is working together to build a happy, contented home.

We congratulate Darlene Kopores and thank Alberta's Weekly Newspaper Editors for their active participation in the Alberta Junior Citizen of the Year program, sponsored by Alberta's investor-owned electric utility companies.

Tax Returns Show Errors

"Almost one in three farmers filing a 1966 income tax return in 1967 had an error in the Canada Pension Plan part," said Gordon W. Northfield, District Taxation Director at Calgary District Office of the Department of National Revenue—Taxation in an interview recently.

He explained further that errors fell into two main categories—not filling in the CPP section at all and forgetting to deduct Canada Pension Plan payments before arriving at the taxable income figure. Both errors are costing the farmer money so it's hitting them in a soft place—their taxation funny-bone!

Now it seems not all farmers are aware that they have to pay into the Canada Pension Plan if they are between 18 and 70 years of age and earned more than $800 net self-employed income in 1966. Sorry, but it's just one of those things! Farmers have to kick in the same as office workers and doctors. And where else can you get such a cheap form of insurance against an impoverished old age?

The second error, as pointed out earlier, is forgetting to enter the amount of Canada Pension Plan contributions you've either made or owe into the section called DEDUCT on page two of the general tax form. As CCP contributions are income tax free, it is to the farmer's advantage to list his contribution—or future contribution—before working out his taxable income. Every little bit helps!

Mr. Northfield went on to say, "There have also been many errors in figuring out the actual arithmetic of the Canada Pension Plan section. It is really not all that hard, you know. We have a special Farmer and Fisherman's Guide that explains it all. Or, a rule of thumb to go by is to deduct $600 from your net self-employed farm-

COLD WEATHER CONCRETE

Every fall the cold weather catches some of us with concrete work which must be completed. What precautions should be taken to ensure top quality cold weather concrete?

Extension Engineers with the Alberta Department of Agriculture, say the important thing is to prevent the concrete from freezing. Below freezing temperatures will have a very detrimental effect upon its quality.

Engineers recommend building an enclosure before commencing the job and having equipment available for heating the concrete materials and for maintaining favorable temperatures after the concrete has been placed. As a general rule, freshly placed concrete should be kept above freezing for at least a week. However, if it is possible to maintain a temperature of 50 degrees F., a two-day curing period should be enough.

Although oil and coal burning heaters with blowers are frequently used to heat the enclosure, care should be taken to prevent the concrete from getting dried out, especially near the heater. Also, unless the heater is properly vented it should not be used while the concrete is being placed or for the first 24 hours to 36 hours of the curing process. Fuel burning heaters produce carbon dioxide which combines with fresh concrete to form a weak surface layer which will be come very dusty under traffic conditions.

Recommendations are to use a high early strength concrete for cold weather concreting. Although protecting this type of concrete against freezing is just as important as protecting other concrete, the length of time that this protection is required is shorter.

One or a combinations of the following materials can be used for making high early strength concrete.

- Type 111 or 111A cement.
- Lower water-cement ratios than usual.
- Higher curing temperatures than usual.

(d) Chemical accelerators—these chemicals should not be used as a substitute for proper curing and frost protection. They are designed to speed up the hardening process; not to lower the concrete's freezing point.

Never place concrete on a frozen sub-grade. If the slab freezes there is a good possibility of retarding the concrete's hardening process. Also, the concrete may settle unevenly when the sub-grade thaws.
